

What is THE Truth, How can we know it, and How can we prove it?

by Dennis Marcellino

We hear so many things in life...in the media, in schools, in churches, from our friends, etc. How do we know which of these things are true, and which aren't? There's a good (and unfortunate) saying in advertising: if people hear something enough times, they'll eventually accept it as truth. Based on his training in science, and a mind and heart hungry to know the truths about life and the optimum ways to live, Dennis Marcellino has spent the last 35 years with those pursuits as his #1 interest. Now after all of that, he has a clear understanding of what THE truth is as well as the process by which we acquire truth and how we can verify it. So why is it important to know the truth? For one, the statement "Know the truth and the truth will set you free" is a true statement indeed. The more that we understand about life and our being, the more in harmony we'll be with them, which then results in the greater our experiences will be...which is something that we all want. Also, if we want to pass on these truths that we see (or pass on anything that we think or feel or are trying to influence people with), we must have proofs and convincing arguments...the strength of which (for an honest person) is only to the degree that they are true. Otherwise it is just our beliefs vs. their beliefs, both of which can easily be passed off by the other. Therefore it is important, both for our own experience and for our desire to influence others positively, that we know THE truth.

Presentation Includes:

- The three ways by which we come to know truth
- What is science?
- The clearest and most complete way to see what we are and what life is
- What the ultimate truths about life are and how to prove them
- Examining the credibilities of our sources of truth

Speaking Testimonials

"Dennis Marcellino is a man of many talents and interests. His hour-long program was well-received by the audience. He deeply cares about the negative experiences people are going through in our world today, and his mission is to show that these sufferings are unnecessary and that a great solution exists."

– Bill Bennett, (review in) The Capitol Voice

"Your speech was perfect!...combining humor, practical information, entertainment and a LOT of inspiring wisdom."

– Suzanne Sivyver, Bonneville Power (a federal agency)

Reviews for Dennis' book, Why Are We Here?

"This is a very important book that is greatly needed at this time".

Mark Victor Hansen, World-renowned speaker, and Co-author of New York Times #1 Best-Selling Chicken Soup For The Soul series

"Dennis Marcellino has the answer. Actually, with an education that ranges from science and engineering to theology and psychology, Marcellino has many answers. But in his new book, Why Are We Here?, he chooses to answer the one question that has puzzled intellectuals for centuries."

Laura Gunderson, Clackamas Review

"In using science to explore what is usually an emotionally charged subject, Marcellino provides a strong fact-based philosophical approach which is compelling."

Diane Donovan, The Philosopher's Bookshelf, The Midwest Book Review
